Dear <<First Name>><<Last Name>>:

We are writing to inform you of a data security incident at University Gastroenterology that may have resulted in the disclosure of your personal information, including your name and Social Security number. Your electronic medical records were not exposed and remain secure. We take the security of your personal information very seriously, and sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this incident may cause. This letter contains information about steps you can take to protect yourself, and resources we are making available to help you.

On July 11, 2016, we discovered that an unauthorized individual had gained access to an electronic file storage system from a practice we acquired in 2014, Consultants in Gastroenterology, and encrypted several files. We immediately took action to secure our system and conducted an investigation to determine what information was contained in those files. We determined that some files may have contained your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, and medical billing information.

Although we are unaware of any misuse of your or anyone's information information, out of an abundance of caution, we have arranged to have Equifax® protect your identity through its Credit Watch™ Gold identity theft protection product for one year at no charge to you. A description of this product is provided in the attached material, which also contains instructions about how to enroll (including your personal activation code). If you choose to take advantage of this product, it will provide you with a notification of any changes to your credit information, up to $25,000 Identity Theft Insurance Coverage, and access to your credit report. You must complete the enrollment process by December 8, 2016. We urge you to review the Additional Resources enclosed with this letter, and consider enrolling in this product, at our expense.

We have already taken steps to prevent a similar event from occurring in the future, and are making additional security enhancements to protect the privacy and security of your information. This includes deploying a second-level anti-malware solution to every computer and server within the system, disabling inactive user accounts, and removing the affected servers.

We sincerely regret any inconvenience or concern that this matter may cause you, and remain dedicated to protecting your information. If you have any questions or concerns, please call 844-575-7459, Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Eastern.

Sincerely,

Dr. William T. Chen
President

To place a fraud alert on your credit file, visit: https://www.alerts.equifax.com/AutoFraud_Online/jsp/fraudAlert.jsp or you may contact the Equifax auto fraud line at 1-877-478-7625, and follow the simple prompts. For residents of all states:

Fraud Alerts: You can place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus at one of the three major credit bureaus by phone and also via Experian's or Equifax's website. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. The contact information for all three credit bureaus is below:

Monitoring: You should always remain vigilant and monitor your accounts for suspicious or unusual activity.

Security Freeze: You also have the right to place a security freeze on your credit report. A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you need to make a request to each consumer reporting agency. You may make that request by certified mail, overnight mail, or regular stamped mail, or by following the instructions found at the websites listed below. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue. The consumer reporting agency may charge a small fee to place, lift, or remove a freeze, but is free if you are a victim of identity theft or the spouse of a victim of identity theft, and you have submitted a valid police report relating to the identity theft incident to the consumer reporting agency. You may obtain a security freeze by contacting any one or more of the following national consumer reporting agencies:
