NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear [REDACTED]:

We are sending you this notice because Universal Music Group (“UMG”) experienced a data breach that affected some of your personal information. While we have found no evidence that your information has been misused, we are informing you of the incident to allow you to take steps to maintain the security of your identity.

WHAT HAPPENED?

In early July, we detected unauthorized activity in one of our internal applications. We promptly engaged third-party experts to investigate and assist with remediation. Through that investigation, we determined that an unauthorized third party acquired data that potentially contained personal information. We then engaged a data-review firm to review the exfiltrated data. We received those results on August 30, 2024, and worked with counsel to determine which individuals to notify.

WHAT INFORMATION WAS INVOLVED?

The data accessed by the unauthorized person contained your personal information, including your name and Social Security number.

WHAT WE ARE DOING.

UMG takes the security of your personal information very seriously. We took immediate containment and mitigation actions upon detecting the unauthorized activity and worked with third-party experts, including outside counsel and a leading cybersecurity firm, to help us investigate the unauthorized activity and further secure our systems. Notice was not delayed as the result of a law enforcement investigation.

WHAT YOU CAN DO.

We encourage you to remain vigilant for any signs of unauthorized financial activity, and we are offering a complimentary 24-month membership to Experian’s IdentityWorks. Please review the next page for instructions on enrolling in IdentityWorks, as well as information on other steps you can take to protect yourself against fraud and identity theft.

FOR MORE INFORMATION.

Should you have any questions or concerns, you can contact us at (888) 401-0393 on Monday through Friday 9:00 am - 7:00 pm Eastern Time, and one of our representatives will be happy to assist you. Thank you for your understanding.

Sincerely,

Saheli Datta
EVP, Chief Compliance Officer

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

Activate your complimentary credit monitoring – To help protect you from fraud or identity theft, we are offering a complimentary 24-month membership to Experian’s IdentityWorks. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information. To register, please:

- Ensure that you enroll by: 12/30/2024 (Your code will not work after this date.)
- Visit the Experian IdentityWorks website to enroll: www.experianidworks.com/3bcredit
- Provide your activation code: [REDACTED]

If you have questions or want an alternative to enrolling in Experian IdentityWorks online, please contact Experian at (877)-208-8057 by 12/30/2024, and provide them engagement number [REDACTED].

Remain vigilant – We encourage you to remain vigilant for fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports. You can also find additional suggestions at www.identitytheft.gov/Info-Lost-or-Stolen.

- You should confirm that your credit card company has the correct address on file for you and that all charges on the account are legitimate. If you discover errors or suspicious activity, you should immediately contact the credit card company and inform them that you have received this letter.
- You should obtain and review a free copy of your credit report by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com or calling (877) 322-8228. If the report is incorrect, you should contact the appropriate consumer reporting agency—Equifax, Experian, or TransUnion.

Consider placing a fraud alert or security freeze on your credit file – Consumer reporting agencies have tools you can use to protect your credit, including fraud alerts and security freezes.

- A fraud alert is a cautionary flag you can place on your credit file to notify companies extending you credit that they should take special precautions to verify your identity. You can contact any of the three consumer reporting agencies to place fraud alerts with each agency. The alert lasts for one year, but you can renew it.
- A security freeze will prevent others from accessing your credit report, which makes it harder for someone to open an account in your name. You must contact each consumer reporting agency separately to order a security freeze, and they may require you to provide them with your full name, Social Security number, date of birth, and current and previous addresses. There is no charge for requesting a security freeze. You can obtain more information about security freezes by contacting the consumer reporting agencies or the Federal Trade Commission (See contacts below.)

Report suspicious activity – If you believe you are the victim of identity theft, consider (1) notifying your Attorney General, local law enforcement, or the Federal Trade Commission; (2) filing a police report and requesting a copy of that report; and (3) visiting www.IdentityTheft.gov to report the issue and get recovery steps.

Contact relevant authorities – You may contact the below resources to (1) get more information on fraud alerts or security freezes and (2) learn more about protecting yourself from fraud or identity theft.
