RE: NOTICE OF DATA <<Variable Data 1>>

Dear <<Full Name>>:

Kevin Grunawalt/Verso Financial is writing to make you aware of a data privacy event that may affect some of your personal information. This notice provides you with details about the event, our response, and resources available to you to help protect your information, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? We were made aware of suspicious activity involving an employee email account and, in response, we initiated an investigation into the nature and scope of the activity. From that investigation, it was determined that the email account had been subject to unauthorized access by an unknown actor at times between October 2023 and February 2024, during which the unknown actor had the capability to copy contents of the mailbox. We subsequently began an extensive review of the email account to identify and catalogue what information was present within the account and to whom that information related. Following the completion of that review, on or around August 23, 2024, we moved promptly to locate and confirm addresses for affected individuals in order to provide necessary notifications.

What Information Was Involved? Your name and the following types of information relating to you were identified as having been present within the email account at the time of the event: <<Breached Elements>>.

What We Are Doing. We take our responsibility to safeguard the data entrusted to us very seriously. We responded promptly to this event and worked diligently to conduct a comprehensive investigation and thoroughly review the information potentially affected. We are also taking steps to enhance our existing security measures to further protect the data in our care moving forward. As an added precaution, we are providing you with access to twelve (12) months of complimentary Equifax credit monitoring services provided through Epiq Global. Information on how to enroll in these services is provided in the attached Steps You Can Take To Protect Personal Information. This section also includes guidance on resources available to you to protect personal information against potential misuse.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors for at least the next 12 to 24 months. We also encourage you to review the attached Steps You Can Take To Protect Personal Information and enroll in the credit monitoring services we are offering. Please note, we are not permitted to enroll you in these services and so you will need to follow the instructions included below to enroll.

¹WebScan searches for your Social Security Number, up to 5 passport numbers, up to 6 bank account numbers, up to 6 credit/debit card numbers, up to 6 email addresses, and up to 10 medical ID numbers. WebScan searches thousands of Internet sites where consumers' personal information is suspected of being bought and sold, and regularly adds new sites to the list of those it searches. However, the Internet addresses of these suspected Internet trading sites are not published and frequently change, so there is no guarantee that we are able to locate and search every possible Internet site where consumers' personal information is at risk of being traded. ²The Automatic Fraud Alert feature is made available to consumers by Equifax Information Services LLC and fulfilled on its behalf by Equifax Consumer Services LLC. ³Locking your Equifax credit report will prevent access to it by certain third parties. Locking your Equifax credit report will not prevent access to your credit report at any other credit reporting agency. Entities that may still have access to your Equifax credit report include: companies like Equifax Global Consumer Solutions, which provide you with access to your credit report or credit score, or monitor your credit report as part of a subscription or similar service; companies that provide you with a copy of your credit report or credit score, upon your request; federal, state and local government agencies and courts in certain circumstances; companies using the information in connection with the underwriting of insurance, or for employment, tenant or background screening purposes; companies that have a current account or relationship with you, and collection agencies acting on behalf of those whom you owe; companies that authenticate a consumer's identity for purposes other than granting credit, or for investigating or preventing actual or potential fraud; and companies that wish to make pre-approved offers of credit or insurance to you. To opt out of such pre-approved offers, visit www.optoutprescreen.com ⁴The Identity Theft Insurance benefit is underwritten and administered by American Bankers Insurance Company of Florida, an Assurant company, under group or blanket policies issued to Equifax, Inc., or its respective affiliates for the benefit of its Members. Please refer to the actual policies for terms, conditions, and exclusions of coverage. Coverage may not be available in all jurisdictions.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
