This is a follow up to a previous request:

Christopher, thanks. We'd read on CharityWatch.org that your office is among the state regulators of charities and filed similar requests with many such regulators, but doing some follow-up research, we understand that Vermont is not among the states that require charities that solicit contributions there to register or file any forms.

Subject: Your public records request

Dear Insider Staff,

We are unable to locate any records responsive to your request for IRS Tax Form 990's for "The Supreme Court Historical Society, with the federal employer identification number (FEIN) 23-7420574; and/or and OpenAI Inc, with the FEIN 81-0861541.

Neither of these entities are based in Vermont, and neither are registered with our Secretary of State. Is there a reason you believe that Vermont would be a repository for these tax forms? You may be able to locate these disclosures online and/or through the IRS website.

Please let me know if you have any questions, or if you believe this response is in error. If you believe this request is denied or that records have been withheld in error you may appeal to Acting Chief Deputy Rob McDougall. Thank you.

Best, Christopher
