Dear <<Name1>>:

SEACOR Holdings Inc. understands the importance of protecting information. We are writing to inform you that we have identified and addressed a security incident that may have involved your information. This letter explains who we are, what occurred, what we are doing in response, and what you can do.

We provide equipment and services to the offshore petroleum and marine transportation industries. We have your information because you are a current or former employee, a dependent or beneficiary of a current or former employee, or an applicant for employment, or we were provided your information for another business-related reason.

We identified unusual activity in our network. We immediately implemented our incident response plan, took steps to contain the activity, and launched an investigation. A cybersecurity firm that has assisted other companies in similar situations also was engaged.

On October 11, 2022, we determined that an unauthorized actor accessed certain folders on our servers and viewed or obtained files in those folders. That activity occurred between August 31, 2022 and September 3, 2022. Because the evidence did not show which specific files were viewed or obtained, we conducted a careful review of the files in those folders and, on November 28, 2022, determined that they contained your name and your passport number, merchant mariner number, and/or health information.

We wanted to notify you of this incident to assure you that we take it seriously. It is always advisable to review any statements you may receive from your health insurer or healthcare providers. If you see charges for services that you did not receive, contact your insurer or provider immediately. For more information on identity theft prevention and steps you can take to protect your information, please see the pages that follow this letter.

We regret that this incident occurred and apologize for any inconvenience. To prevent something like this from happening again, we completed implementation of an enhanced security tool and will look for additional opportunities to strengthen our existing security measures. If you have any questions, please call 888-503-6961, Monday through Friday, between 9:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m., Eastern Time.

Sincerely,

Bruce Weins
Chief Financial Officer

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.
