[Notice of Data Breach]

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Veris Residential, Inc. (“Veris”) writes to inform you of an event that may affect the security of some of your personal information. This notice provides information about the event, our response, and resources available to you to help protect your information, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? In late December 2021, we became aware of unusual activity related to an employee’s email account. Upon becoming aware of the unusual activity, we immediately launched an investigation to determine the full scope and impact of this activity. It was determined that an unknown actor gained access to a limited number of employee email accounts at various times between November 12, 2021 and December 22, 2021. We then undertook a comprehensive review of the affected accounts, with the assistance of third-party data review specialists, to determine whether any personal information was contained within the accounts and, if so, to whom the information related. Upon completion of the third-party review, we undertook a time-intensive manual review of our records to confirm the identities of potentially affected individuals and confirm mailing address information to issue notifications. This review recently concluded.

What Information Was Involved? The information related to you that was contained within one of the impacted email accounts during the event includes your [Extra1] and name.

What We Are Doing. We take this event and the security of personal information in our care seriously. Upon learning of this event, we moved quickly to investigate and respond, assess the security of our email environment, and notify potentially affected individuals. As part of our ongoing commitment to the security of information, we reviewed existing policies and procedures and implemented enhanced administrative and technical safeguards to reduce the likelihood of a similar future event.

As an added precaution, we are offering complimentary credit monitoring and identity restoration services for [Extra2] months through Experian. Enrollment instructions are enclosed with this letter.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. We also encourage you to review the information contained in the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information. You may also enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring services available to you. Enrollment instructions are enclosed with this letter

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. You should be aware, however, that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
