

Earth Day Essay

By: Aubrey XXXXXXXXXX

I love Vermont because in the fall, the leaves dance in the wind. The twigs dance in the wind. The trees rustle calmly. In the next paragraph, I will tell you all about why I love Vermont during the fall. Vermont means so much to me and I will always love Vermont.

I love Vermont in the fall. I love Vermont in the fall because during the fall, I love the sound of the leaves rustling on the grass. Next, I love Vermont during the fall because when I go outside, I love the fresh breeze of air I get from the fall. Lastly, I love Vermont during the fall because I love to watch the leaves fall off the trees as the wind is blowing the fresh breeze.

I love Vermont and it will always have a special place in my heart for the rest of eternity. My name is Aubrey Gordon and I am in 5th grade. Some of my hobbies include swimming during the summer, drawing, and playing basketball with my friends for fun.
