

Earth day

Personally I feel like kids should have more of an opportunity to help collaborate with earth day. Most kids may not be able to afford sustainable crafted close/dress wear same with planting trees and creating a pollinator garden.

Vermont is very clean but I still think it needs some help including nonelectric school buses, not a lot of clothing is sustainable made and again kids may not be able to afford sustainable made clothes. Pollution is scary and this year we got a lot less snow than other years. We should try and stop pollution so I can ski, sled, and build snow forts with my family and friends. At MSMS we are lucky to have a sustainable program.
