

There are many companies out there just like the one above that put-on seminars all over the country to teach the towing companies how to maximize on billing customers.

When I contacted this one, they told me that they could teach me how to bill the insurance companies in ways that they won't dispute the amounts.