

PFAS Guidance for Manufacturers, Suppliers, and Distributors

PFAS are toxic, human-made substances that persist in the environment, commonly referred to as “forever chemicals.” In 2021, Vermont’s lawmakers enacted a ban on PFAS in food packaging, firefighting foam, ski wax, and carpets and rugs. This ban went into effect on July 1, 2023.

Specifically, under Vermont law 18 V.S.A. § 1671-1695, a manufacturer, supplier, or distributor shall not manufacture, sell, offer for sale, distribute for sale, or distribute for use the following products if per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) have been intentionally added to them and are present in any amount:

- Food packaging
- Residential carpets and rugs
- Aftermarket stain and water-resistant treatments
- Ski wax and related tuning products

Businesses should review the PFAS Guidance for Manufacturers, Suppliers, and Distributors for definitions, details on the law, and frequently asked questions.

For technical questions, contact the Vermont Department of Health via email at AHS.VDHEnvironmentalHealth@vermont.gov or by telephone at (800) 439-8550.

For general questions about enforcement, contact the Vermont Attorney General’s Office via email at AGO.Info@vermont.gov or by telephone at (802) 828-3171.

To learn more about PFAS in Vermont, visit the Department of Environmental Conservation’s website.