My thoughts on earth day are good when everybody gets together to pick trash that people throw trash on the ground. I also think that composting is really good for the earth. I think this because it makes great soil and decomposes trash.

I honestly like Vermont because it's a beautiful place in general. I like Vermont for its changing leaf colors. Vermont is beautiful when spring comes after a cold winter and everything turns bright green with beautiful colors.

I enjoy Vermont's environment because I can take nature walks without trash being all over the place. I also like Vermont's environment because there's not that many cars on the road like in the city's cause the exhaust fumes goes to outer space and hurts our ozone.

What I care most about Vermont is the wildlife. I care about the deer being hunted during hunting season. I also don't like seeing moose harmed. I also care about how people drive because they do kill wildlife on the highway and kill people. I care about house pets because passing cars can harm them.
