Help The Earth

By Jeddon

Do you really care about Vermont's natural beauty? If so then here's what you should do to protect it.

Don't litter, littering harms the animals and the earth. The more trash put on our earth is bad for it. Litter hurts animals and our ecosystem. Humans use so much electricity it is so bad for our environment, because most electricity is made from burning coal but burning coal is the most polluting way to make electricity. Our blue and green planet is special let's preserve it. We only have one Vermont, let's save it.

Litter can also hurt your lungs if it's burned. Say if you burn your litter in a big fire the fumes are bad for the environment. It puts out fumes that are bad for the environment. It puts fumes in the air that are toxic and bad to breath for animals and people.

We need to reduce air pollution and litter pollution and make the planet a better place.
