<<b2b_text_2 (RE: NOTICE OF [DATA BREACH / DATA INCIDENT])>>

Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>:

First Bank of Alabama (“FBAL”) is writing to make you aware of an incident that may affect the security of some of your information. While we are not aware of any actual or attempted misuse of your information, we are providing you with an overview of the incident, our ongoing response, and resources available to you right now to help protect your information, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On October 5, 2023, FBAL became aware of suspicious activity in our email environment. We immediately took steps to secure the environment and launched an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the activity. FBAL’s investigation determined that there was unauthorized access and possible acquisition of the affected email accounts from October 3, 2023 to October 5, 2023. We identified the affected files and engaged a data review vendor to conduct a comprehensive and review of the files in order to identify the type of information contained therein, and to whom the information relates. On April 22, 2024, FBAL concluded its extensive review of the impacted data. Since that time, FBAL has worked to verify the information and locate missing addresses in order to provide an accurate notice. Although we have no evidence to indicate that any information related to you was actually opened or viewed, we are providing you with this notice out of an abundance of caution.

What Information Was Involved? The potentially impacted information may have contained your name, <<b2b_text_1 (data elements)>>. Again, we have no evidence to indicate that any information was subject to actual or attempted misuse.

What We Are Doing. The confidentiality, privacy, and security of your information in our care is one of our highest priorities. When we discovered this incident, we immediately worked to secure our email environment, and began an investigation to determine what data might be at risk. FBAL reported this incident to the appropriate regulators and are notifying potentially impacted individuals, including you, so that you may take steps to best help protect your information, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;

4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
