Dear Paul,

In further response to your public record act request dated April 10, 2017, attached please find the records of Josh Diamond. One paragraph has been redacted as an attorney-client communication and work product pursuant to 1 VSA 317(c)(3) and (4). In addition, Josh Diamond has records that have previously been identified as withheld as attorney-client communications and work product pursuant to 1 VSA 317(c)(3) and (4) – email communications from me to Josh and Bill Griffin regarding legal advice I have provided on public record act requests and a draft response letter, and a communication between John Treadwell and the Attorney General regarding legal advice on a public record act request. Josh also has a copy of the Chris Curtis April 7 email regarding work in the Public Protection Division that you have already received with redactions. If you feel records or information have been withheld in error, you may appeal within the Attorney General’s Office. Specifically with respect to the Josh Diamond emails, if you wish to appeal, you may contact the Attorney General.

Thanks,
Sarah
