

The Turtle And Three Fish

by sophie

One day, a turtle and three fish were stuck in a pond. A <sup>tiny</sup> pond. It was a very hot day. There was a dry spout and the water was draining slowly.

You ask well, "but turtles don't live in water?" Well this was a sea turtle that could not survive on land and so the turtle and the fish had hardly any water to survive in.

The turtle had his head out of water the whole time. The turtle's name was Tommy and the three fish names were Wilber, Erat and Minks. The person who owns the pond name was Clay. The pond was 5 inches deep and they had to go to the new pond fast. So the person grabbed the turtle by the shell and put them into a bucket. The turtle was scared. The person did the same with the fish. Clay said "it's ok don't panic. I'm bringing you to a deeper pond".

The turtle didn't understand the person. It sounded like a bunch of gibberish to the turtle. 3 minutes later, the turtle Tommy was in a truck. Next, Tommy was brought to a forest. Tommy stuck his head out to look around but when he poked his head, out he smelled the freshest air he had ever smelled in his life. "Oh God, this is nice." Then he was poured out of the bucket with Wilber, Minx and Erat. They had a lot more room now. They even saw a lot more fish.

There were even turtles and frogs. The water was so clean and fresh, there were so many underwater caves to hide in. The best part was that the water was nice, cold and fresh.