

Bryn the whale

By Hayden [REDACTED]

Bryn was swimming deeper and deeper in the ocean, she would come up and do a trick and you would hear a big BOOM when she fell. She was around the Santa Monica Pier, in the Pacific Ocean. Bryn would swim deep in the beautiful coral reef. It is a warm sunny day and Bryn's skin is shining through the choppy water.

When she is doing tricks in the air she always gets lots of applause. As she dives back down she keeps seeing these small and big pieces of what looks like other fish floating everywhere. A wave came up and pushed Bryn really deep in the ocean, and she saw all these other whales swimming deeper and deeper into the ocean. "Come with us" the group of whales said. She starts swimming with them and realizes they are eating this stuff that Bryn saw floating everywhere earlier.

As Bryn swims in all this "trash" she is noticing it is really big and there is a lot of it floating in the water. She starts to do what the other whales are doing and starts eating the stuff that is floating in the water. When she eats it this bag floats onto her face. It does not taste like her normal food and she saw humans throwing it in the ocean the other day. She thinks the bag is a jellyfish so she starts to chomp down on it. As she is biting on it she starts to choke and no one can help her. A big wave came up and brought her to shore.

When the big wave comes up she gets pulled away from the other whales and all the sudden people start to point to Bryn. They all called the animal rescue and people just started running towards Bryn. I started to pull away. When I started to pull away they started putting their arms in these long things I saw in the ocean and they stuck them down my throat. Well I was already choking. It felt like I was choking even more.

When they were sticking a rubber glove down my throat they pulled out this piece of plastic and I stopped choking. I swam back into the ocean. A couple days later animal rescue came out and took all the animals and removed all the trash from the ocean. The next day they released all the animals into the ocean. Bryn was very relieved that there would be no trash or humans.

