

Littering

By Anisha 2022

I believe that littering is bad for the animals and the earth. If we don't clean it. It will be messy and it will go to the water and the water going to turn into polluted and if animals drink it can die from drinking the polluted water is that it is bad for the animal because animals can eat trash, they can die from the trash and other animals can lose their life. People have to stop throwing trash in the ground. It can go to the ocean and the fish can die.

1# reason

2# Another reason

is that the earth can get messy if we throw plastic outside in the ground and the plants can die because of the trash and polluted air can cause problems like heart disease, lung cancer and animals can die from the trash.

3# A final reason is that the water needs to be clean because animal can drink the if the animal drink the pollute water the animal can get sick from the polluted water and could die from it.

In conclusion littering is bad for the animals and the earth can get messy and the water can get polluted from the trash. We need to clean trash more so it won't get messy.
