In my opinion I think we should use less oil because it is bad for the environment and our ocean.

One reason oil spills are bad for our ocean. is that it endangered animals that get stuck in it. and it fills up fish gills and they can also eat it and they will never be able to digest it. and these are two ways wildlife is harmed.

My next reason that oil spills are bad is because. when people try to get rid of it they end up causing another problem .[example when people try to burning it they make air pollution and when they try putting chemicals in the water it makes another version of water pollution].

Another reason that oil spills are bad is. When birds land in it their wings get covered in oil and they can't fly away and so they wash up on shore dead .

These are my three reasons that oil spills are one: it fills the fish's gills and they can't breath and die. Second, when people try to clean it up it creates another problem. thread when birds get stuck in oil they are not able to fly away. This is why oil spills are bad.
