What I like about Vermont is the view. I love the view of Vermont because the trees make it so so so pretty and the trees are so many different shapes and colors. Every different season all or most of the trees turn all different colors and it makes you wonder "why do they turn that color?". All of nature is beautiful and the flowers are not just beautiful but there are so many kinds in fact there are over 400,000 kinds of flowers in the world. The leaves on the trees have so many shapes too. There are different kinds of leaves: oak, maple, crab apple, birch, wild pear, common beech, mountain ash, grey alder, common alder, and more. There are so many animals in Vermont there are 58 mammals and 40 reptiles and amphibians. There are 4 different seasons. Spring is the first season. It is between winter and summer. I like spring because spring is mud season and I have a dirt bike and I love to ride my dirt bike and make a mess of myself in the mud like a pig but on a dirt bike. Spring is also turkey season. Summer is the second season. It is very hot, the highest temperature ever in Vermont was 105°!! I love summer because I have a pool and love to play in it with my relatives. Autumn is the 3rd season. Autumn is probably my favorite season because the leaves fall from the trees and you can play and jump in them. This season is also my favorite season because that is the season my birthday is in and I will be 11!!!. Winter is the last season and it is not my favorite but it is still fun because you can play in the foamy snow and you can go sledding, also snowmobiling and ice skating then build snow tunnels. Those are all the four seasons. My house is in the middle of a circle of trees and it is like a barrier around you. Also my driveway has a barrier of trees going straight and so on. The nature on my road is like a museum but outside there are so many trees and there are two fields and a big pond with every other tree around it. My road and house in the summer is like a flower farm. There are so many flowers on my lawn and in the ditches of the road.
