Hello my name is Wyatt. Today I am talking about Bloomfield and the area around Jay, Vermont. I just wanted to tell you about our problems with trash and about the problem in Bloomfield. I just want to make sure we can still do fun stuff where we love to go. Pollution is a big deal where we live in Vermont and everywhere in the world and now people just want to buy an electric car so it won't pollute the air. On a different subject, I just wanted to ask why you guys are trying to pass a law without hunting turkeys which means they are making it so we can't hunt turkeys? The state of Vermont is trying to make it so we can't hunt turkey in Bloomfield, where we hunt. I have found my favorite spot in Vermont and it's at my hunting camp. I like all the mountains and the woods. That's where my hunting camp is and we put it there because it's such a nice place and on all the mountains there is a good view and it's super beautiful there. On a different note, let's talk about the air and the pretty mountains where I live. The air is very good and it's a very nice town but I've hiked a little on Jay peak and on mount Piska and the air is always thinner when you go higher. On Mount Piska it's such a good view and I love going to the top of that mountain and going on the rocks and looking off the edge. In my little town there is a lot of trash on the side of the roads. We own 75 acres in our little town and every time we go in our field there are bottles and a lot of trash and we get super angry everytime we go there. There is trash in the field and we don't want to run over glass with our quads and dirtbikes so I go out and pick them up. I wish people would stop throwing stuff out of their cars or trucks onto our field. We also have family with land and they have the same problem with there land there is always trash there and they always have to pick it up and there getting sick of it and we are getting even more mad because it happens so much what we do for my moms car we put in the garbage can is just a little one with a mini garbage bag.
